Junior Achievement Consultant Project
EVALUATION FORM

✓ Check with Dr. Hashimoto for final confirmation of Evaluation Forms, Junior Achievement Consultant Project Criteria, and Placement Procedure for her methods course.

TO THE JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT CONSULTANT PROJECT STUDENT:
This Junior Achievement Consultant Project evaluation is a part of your final grade for the course that you are enrolled in. You must do the following:
1. Complete the top portion of the attached evaluation,
2. Give this information page and the evaluation form to your Classroom Mentor Teacher;
3. And you are responsible for returning the completed, signed and dated evaluation to your Saint Martin’s University course instructor: Dr. Fumie Hashimoto.

TO THE COOPERATING TEACHER:
The teacher preparation courses that include a Junior Achievement Consultant Project cover a variety of methods and materials in specific content areas. The purpose of the Junior Achievement Consultant Project assignment is to provide the student with practical experience that complements the course curriculum. The Junior Achievement Consultant Project experience is intended to fulfill the WAC requirement for pre-teachers. Therefore, the student must be present in your classroom the minimum number of hours indicated on the attached form. The Junior Achievement Consultant Project requires that the student do the following:
1. Observe in the classroom,
2. Work with students in the subject area appropriate for the course,
3. Teach a minimum of five lessons per kit, 2 kits, total of ten lessons, to a large or small group of students in your classroom. The lesson(s) are designed in conjunction with your curriculum and your classroom activities, and taught in an appropriate lesson plan format chosen by Junior Achievement.

The cooperating teacher’s evaluation and comments are critical to the continuing assessment of this student’s ability to become a professional educator in the public school system. Please complete the evaluation form on the back of this page, and return it to the instructor at the address below. This evaluation will become a permanent part of the student’s academic record at Saint Martin’s University.

Your participation in the education of this student and cooperation with the Saint Martin’s University Teacher Certification Program is invaluable. Should you have questions or concerns, please call the Course Instructor, Dr. Fumie Hashimoto at (360) 438-4330, FAX at (360) 438-4486 or write e-mail at fumie@stmartin.edu, or Saint Martin’s University, 5300 Pacific Ave. SE, Lacey, Washington 98503.

Thank you!
